

The Caribbean Heritage Network is online!

Visit the site now, at <https://www.caribheritage.org/>

If you are a heritage manager, scholar, working professional, student, or traditional artisan, the Caribbean Heritage Network is a non-profit organization that brings the heritage community in the region together, to share experiences, gain new contacts, and enjoy professional benefits such as access to opportunities and interest groups.

Learn more about MEMBERSHIP at
<https://www.caribheritage.org/get-involved/become-a-member>

The Caribbean Heritage Network has been established as an initiative by the Organization of American States, with support from the Permanent Mission of the United States of America. It is hosted by the University of the West Indies, Cave Hill Campus, Barbados.

